

CERN Network Referral Form

The CERN Foundation is an independent, not-for-profit organization founded in 2006 with the mission improving the care and outcomes for people with ependymoma through community support and research efforts. The CERN Foundation's website receives over 30,000 unique visitors per year and serves as a leading resource in the patient and caregiver community. By completing and returning this form, your institution will be listed as part of CERN's network of neuro-oncology referral sites that have a particular interest in ependymoma. This form will be sent and reviewed one time per year. In addition to referrals, sites included in the CERN Foundation network are eligible to apply for the CERN Research Fellowship and will be notified of CERN organized symposia and special events.
